Congratulations!

Maureen Frawley began working at UW-Marinette as the English as a Second Language Instructor for the Central American Scholarship Program (CASS) in 1988.

In 1990, she accepted the position of Public Information Director for the campus in addition to her duties as ESL instructor. In 1991, she became the CASS Director while continuing to handle the duties of the campus PR officer. In 1998, her position as University Relations Director was expanded to full-time. She was responsible for campus marketing and communications. In 1995 she received the Chamber of Commerce Achievement in Education Award and was named Academic Staff of the Year in 2011.

Professor James LaMalfa began his career at UW-Marinette in 1969. He taught classes in drawing, sculpture, photography, art history and international art.

He has exhibited throughout the Midwest and has commissioned work at Weaver Chapel (Wittenberg), UW-Eau Claire (Phillips Hall), and UW-Marinette (Fine Arts Building and Sculpture Garden). He was a charter member of the Coalition of Active Sculpture Teachers, founded in 1990. He exhibited C.A.S.T. exhibits at UW-Stevens Point, UW-Milwaukee, and a joint show at UW-Stout and UW Eau Claire. He is also a former alderman for the City of Marinette. In 2007, LaMalfa published The da Vinci Diaries, a novel about the Italian Renaissance that asks, what if...?

Annual Report 2013
It has been an exciting year at UW-Marinette, and I am pleased to share with you these initiatives and events highlighted in these pages, a tribute to the vitality and mission of our campus.

This fall, UW-Marinette opened student apartment housing, welcoming our first 28 resident students! Through a partnership with North Ave Apartments, the campus was able to quickly address the resident housing needs expressed by nearly 20% of our students in a survey administered last spring. We plan to further expand the housing available this coming fall. Also new this year, all of our Upper Peninsula of Michigan students have begun to benefit from a special reduced tuition rate, very comparable now to in-state Wisconsin rates. Together, these initiatives enhance our outreach while better serving our continuing and new students.

Our outreach has also included new developments to support our non-traditional and distance/commuter students. Among these is the introduction of the “flipped curriculum” model, whereby professors pre-record their lectures for students to view prior to class in order to free up class time for problem-solving and group discussion. Eleven of our faculty have begun to incorporate flipped curriculum into their instruction, and early assessments demonstrate the students are truly benefiting from the opportunity to view videos multiple times and to utilize class time for more in-depth discussion and review.

On the horizon are new opportunities such as the Flexible Degree option which was recently rolled out by Governor Walker and UW Colleges Chancellor Ray Cross. This unique competency-based model will allow students to start classes anytime they like, work at their own pace, and earn credit for what they already know.

Also new this year is UW-Marinette’s Internship Program. Beginning this fall, students have been offered the opportunity to earn credit for work experience through our brand new Internship Course (LEC 200), which guides them through completion of the National Career Readiness Certificate and culminates in a 40-hour working experience in our community.

In the meantime, we have continued to connect with our alums who are working at local companies, such as Marinette Marine Corporation, UTE Aerospace, Tyco, Silvus, and Wausau, through our UW Works campaign. They demonstrate that an associate degree from UW-Marinette can not only prepare you for immediate employment in a variety of fields but can also be the first step on a journey that can take you wherever you want, whether that destination be a bachelor’s, a master’s, or a professional degree.

In short, UW-Marinette’s liberal arts curriculum gives students a firm foundation in both the sciences and the arts. We are ideally situated to take advantage of our location on the shores of Lake Michigan to give students research experience in the environmental sciences and opportunities to volunteer with conservation programs that benefit our community. Opportunities such as these are described in these pages as well others in our theatre, art and music programs, which expose students to those areas that enrich our personal as well as our professional lives.

I hope this report gives you insight into our mission at UW-Marinette, and I invite you to visit the campus at your convenience and to attend some of the many events we offer throughout the year!

Sincerely,

Paula T. Langteau
Campus Executive Officer and Dean

The UW-Marinette Foundation is proud to partner with the campus on this annual report. The Foundation is a separate entity from the University, but we are proud of our collaborative relationship in support of students, faculty, facilities and programming.

In May, the alumni association welcomed 75 graduates as Campus Friend Trisha Dickmon Lemery, President and CEO of Winstem, Inc, gave the commencement address. We also helped sponsor with the Stephenson National Bank & Trust the annual Convocation on UW-Madison’s First Wave, a Hip Hop and Urban Arts Learning Community doing a cutting edge multi-cultural artistic program in September.

November saw the annual Scholarship Donor-Recipient luncheon of appreciation for the more than $41,000 distributed to students this year through the fund-raising efforts of the Foundation.

Thank you to all who support the UW-Marinette Foundation! Everyone benefits through your generosity—students, faculty, staff, the campus and the community! Sincerely,

Kim Gruszynski, Recruiter, representing UW-Marinette at the Oneida Higher Education College Fair in October 2013

As a recruiter, I love being able to bring our campus into these new communities and connect students to us. It’s incredibly rewarding to help students find their fit here at UW-Marinette, and to provide them with the support and encouragement they need to confidently start their college journey.

Kim Gruszynski & Matt Baeten. Sarah and Matt graduated from LCHS in 2013 and both started at UW-Marinette in Fall 2013.

According to Kim, “Student recruitment is so vital to the health of our campus. We are now connecting with communities up to 2 1/2 hours away from Marinette-bringing students to our campus from areas we'd normally not see represented, such as Ishpeming, Michigan and White Lake, Wisconsin.

As a recruiter, I love being able to bring our campus into these new communities and connect students to us. It’s incredibly rewarding to help students find their fit here at UW-Marinette, and to provide them with the support and encouragement they need to confidently start their college journey.”
Collaborations

The new UW Flexible Option allows individuals to apply the knowledge and experience they already have to earn a degree at their own pace. There are two options people can enroll in: the first option is a three-month subscription that allows the student to take as many modules as he or she wants and earns as many credits as he or she can in a three-month time. The second option allows students to sign up for individual modules that can be finished at their own pace. The UW Flex Option is a joint undertaking of UW System and UW-Extension. The first participating institutions are UW Colleges, which is offering the Associate of Arts and Science degree in the UW Flexible Option format, and UW-Milwaukee, which is offering three degrees and one certificate program through the UW Flexible Option: Registered Nurse to Bachelor of Science in Nursing, Bachelor of Science in Information Science and Technology, Bachelor of Science in Biomedical Sciences Diagnostic Imaging degree-completion program and a Business and Technical Communications Certificate.

Before admissions opened, 4,000 people already had expressed an interest in the UW Flexible Option. On Nov. 11, an online self-evaluation opened to help potential students determine whether the UW Flexible Option would be a good fit for them. Since then, more than 930 have begun the new UW Flexible Option.

Academics & Athletics

Student Housing

Student Apartment Housing has grown since its inception in fall of 2012. UW-Marinette is now utilizing 2 of the NorthAire apartment buildings exclusively for university students.

In the fall of 2013, there were 47 students residing in the housing units, up from 2012’s total of 33 students. UW-Marinette has held housing retreats to gain feedback from students to gauge what kind of programs and activities they would like to participate in, changes students would like to see implemented and general ideas for improving student life in the housing units.

In addition, DaMontae Janaway, Housing Director and Miranda Mulzer, Community Assistant, joined the staff in August of 2013 to provide academic support and guidance, supervision and programming to the housing residents.

Provided Spanish language tutoring, Spanish and ESL, Bethany Welch, Associate Lecturer, Spanish and ESL.

Attended ACT 63 Electrical Training at Moxline Park Technical College and received CPR certification in March 2013.

Selected as an Advanced Online Teaching Fellow at UW-Green Bay, awarded a grant to take part in a two-week blended course with other faculty to revise online English composition course to meet Quality Matters standards.

Participated in the Community College Faculty Institute: Using Marine Technology and Ocean Data Resources in Your Science Courses, from 29 July – 2 August at the Oregon Institute of Marine Biology near Coos Bay. The course involved 5 very full days of instruction in marine life, which, while being heavily focused on salt water, provided instruction in constructing various inexpensive monitoring devices and platforms, which are easily adapted to use on the Great Lakes.

Theatre on the Bay

The performing arts had a great year as Theatre on the Bay opened its 47th season with the Tony Award-winning family classic “The Sound of Music.” Over 1,800 people attended this spectacular musical that featured talented students and community members. In November, the stage came alive with the production of “It’s A Wonderful Life: A Play for Radio” which told the iconic story of George Bailey.

West Shore Chorale

The West Shore Chorale, directed by David Giebler, has been performing choral works of the masters since 1981. The musical groups consist of volunteer community members and UW-Marinette students who join the chorus or orchestra as a credit-earning class. Concerts are held twice a year. The Spring concert, held on April 21, featured a selection of Prairie Songs by Stephen Paulus and the Winter concert, titled, “Gloria” was billed as a concert in anticipation of Christmas.

Convocation

Fall Convocation featured UW-Madison’s “First Wave,” a Hip Hop and Urban Arts Learning Community doing a cutting-edge multi-cultural artistic program in September. This event was co-sponsored by the UW-Marinette Foundation in partnership with the Stephenson National Bank & Trust.

Undergraduate Research & Performance Conference 2013

The annual URPC took place on April 26 and featured student work on a host of topics ranging from the benefits of recycling, energy of the human body, art techniques & inspirations and spiritual journeys to classical and popular musical performances. In the photo to the right, student Rachel Badgley (piano), is accompanied by Barb Akins (violin) and Mary Ellen Krawczyck (cello) to perform selections from Bach, Beethoven and Debussy.

UW-Colleges ”There’s a U for YOU!” Campaign

UW-Colleges new ”There’s a U for YOU!” campaign was developed based on the brand promise, competitive analysis and mission statement of the UW-Colleges System. It positions all 13 UW-Colleges campuses as an affordable, supportive and local University of Wisconsin education for students with complex lives who want to discover their life’s work and make a difference. This campaign will help UW-Marinette and our sister campuses recruit students and maintain our enrollment for years to come! There truly is a “U for YOU” here at UW-Marinette!

50th Anniversary Celebration

In the coming month, UW-Marinette will begin preparing for the 50th Anniversary of the campus. This milestone is significant, not only because we have stood the test of time by providing thousands of local residents the opportunity to receive a quality college education, but also because it provides an opportunity to showcase the campus to the community as well as begin the process of ensuring we continue to offer the best, most-affordable UW education. Stay tuned for updates on campus events and announcements.
